Investiture Archbishop Eamon Martin

Archbishop Eamon Martin invites you to join him at his formal investiture with the pallium in St Patrick's Cathedral Armagh at 7.00pm. Mass on Saturday 4 July 2015. Pope Francis will bless and present the pallium to Archbishop Eamon privately after concelebrated Mass in St Peter's Basilica, Rome on the Feast of St Peter and St Paul, 29 June. Archbishop Eamon will return to Armagh for the formal investiture by Archbishop Charles Brown, Apostolic Nuncio to Ireland in the presence of bishops and representatives from the nine dioceses in the ecclesiastical province of Armagh, including our own. The pallium is a white woolen strip, worn around the Archbishop's neck, which symbolises the bond between an archbishop and the Pope. The wearing of the pallium dates back to the fourth century. It predates the mitre and the crozier as episcopal symbols.

Musings

Ronald Rolheiser has a lovely way of using the story of the woman touching the hem of Christ's garment to encourage parents whose children no longer practice the faith or who find themselves estranged from the Church. He stresses that what each of us does for others (as the Body of Christ, his Church and in Christ's name) is an extension of Christ's ministry. When we forgive someone, we communicate Christ's forgiveness; when we comfort someone, we extend Christ's comfort to them. When parents continue to love, care for, comfort, listen to and forgive their adult children, these family members although no longer practicing are nevertheless touching them with Christ's garment.
